

We were surprised to here that the FCC has proposed to expand Low power FM service (LPFM) at the detriment of current FM Translators such as K-Love radio. K-love and other translators as well are providing a needed and appreciated service already. We especially appreciate K-love because of the uplifting and encouraging programming they provide. Most of the local stations are typically top 40 stations with commentary and lyrics we do not appreciate. I appreciate the situation you have with providing the most programming without interference. However please do not take a course that will affect the excellent quality of programming w found on Stations like K-love. It is hard enough as a family to find something good to watch on TV with the garbage allowed on it now. Now it feels like our quality programming we enjoy on the radio is in jeopardy as well.
